

George Alexander, MD, FACS, FAACS, FASLMS
President Elect, Clark County Medical Society

CURRICULUM VITAE

BIO

Dr. Alexander received his M.D. degree from one of the most prestigious facilities in the USA, the Georgetown University School of Medicine in Washington, D.C. Graduating at the top of his class, Dr. Alexander was selected for membership in the distinguished medical academic society, Alpha Omega Alpha.

Upon completion of medical school, Dr. Alexander continued his medical training with 5 years of internship and residency in General Surgery and 3 years in Plastic & Reconstructive Surgery (one of the most extensive training programs you will ever find in a cosmetic surgeon). During his residency, he was identified by the United States Government as the number one doctor in his program. He went on to succeed as Founder and Chief of Plastic Surgery at Mike O'Callaghan Federal Hospital. He achieved the respected position as Chief of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery at MountainView Hospital in Las Vegas. As a continuing credit to his expertise in the field, Dr. Alexander is often quoted in magazine and newspaper articles on topics relating to Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery.
